

1 E. That children who drink at least one sugary drink per day are 55 percent more likely 2 to be overweight or obese and two-thirds of children consume at least one sugary drink on 3 a given day.

4 F. That key national health and nutrition organizations, including the American 5 Academy of Pediatrics and the American Heart Association, recommend children aged five 6 and under should not be given any drink with added sugars.

7 G. That many families lack adequate time to obtain and prepare healthy food, making 8 dining out an appealing and often necessary option. As a result, more than one-half of food
9 expenditures in the United States are spent outside the home. Nationwide, American 10 children obtain 25 percent of their calories from restaurants.

11 H. That by enacting this ordinance, Council intends to support parents' efforts to feed 12 their children healthfully by ensuring that healthy drinks are available to children in 13 restaurants.
